

I live in Utah where we have very few contemporary christian radio programs. KLOVE is one that brings joy and hope to many people, and offers good family programming. If this were to be displaced by an LPFM program of any other type we have even less christian radio. In Utah where we need Christian encouragement this station would be tremendously missed. KLOVE offers positive songs, words, and messages that create people who feel good about themselves and create safer communities and citizens. People who hear encouragement, will give encouragement to others, and so on and so on!. Please allow this radio station to be heard. We have so few of its kind in Utah.
